STAT

I have not written to you before because I have not found any appropriate niche in this organization into which you might fit that would be commensurate with your age and experience, nor does one exist at this time.

You would be particularly well qualified for a key position in our administrative organization. Changes there occur from time to time and as soon as any shift is contemplated which might be interesting to you, I will put you to the trouble of coming to Washington to talk with some of our people. This may be sooner than you anticipate but it is impossible for me to tell at the present time.

Faithfully,
